Wholesale Dye Sublimation Polyester Knit Fabric Banners for Trade Shows, Resellers, or Brokers

Dye-sublimated Polyester Heavy Knit Fabric/Cloth Banners are printed on our 9 oz. poly fabric. This 100% polyester product is wrinkle resistant and moderately opaque. And no, it doesn't look like a '70's polyester disco suit!

What is Dye Sublimation Printing

Dye-sublimated printing is a heat-transfer process, whereby a graphic is printed in reverse on a special transfer paper and heat-transferred while applying high pressure to polyester fabrics. After the paper is printed, the ink/paper is heated to 400+ degrees and using pressure on the paper/ink/fabric, the ink turns into a gas and "sublimates" itself into the fabric - hence the term dye-sublimation.

Compared to direct solvent print to fabric, the dye-sublimation process provides more vibrant colors and a photo-clear definition. Another advantage of the dye-sublimation printing process is that these fabric banners are machine washable on a gentle cycle with mild detergent. You can't do this with solvent-printed fabrics.
